The object of this study is the lyrics of “How Many Hours” in Michael Learns to Rock’s song, because it contains general meaning, detailed meaning and the message inside. The general meaning of the lyrical poem “How Many Hours” is about poet’s expression toward war and its effects, and his hope on peace. The detailed meaning of the lyrical poem “How Many Hours”, in the beginning, the poet describes a condition of a family who lives in the middle of the war. The poet shows the sadness of a mother towards her life and the future of her little son. A young calm man has changed into a stiff and rigorous man because of the war. In the second stanza, the poet shows the voice of those who live in the middle of war that they need protection, a safe place, and a nice world. In the third stanza, the poet wants to say that war happens because there is no mutual love among human beings. The war gives a long tear and fear to the citizenries. Their days are never far from a long suffering and fear that they themselves do not know when will those feelings disappear. In the last stanza, the poet teases the people who do not care to the war by showing a picture in which the children are still playing in their world that has become broken. The message found in the lyrical poem “How Many Hours” is that war gives fear, trauma, and suffering to the citizenries. Every person should have mutual love among others, so that, the war will not happen.
