USING DICTOGLOSS STRATEGY

ABSTRACT

The research aims to determine whether the dictogloss strategy improves listening comprehension at SMKN 1 Tanah Grogot or not. The design of this research is quasi-experimental. The population of this research was the students of SMK N 1 Tanah Grogot and the samples of this research were the students of class XI BD and class XI BR. The research employed two classes as samples: the experimental group received instruction through dictogloss strategy, whereas the control group was taught using the team listening strategy. To determine the improvement in dictogloss, the collected data was submitted to a paired sample t-test using IBM SPSS Statistics 25. After collecting the data to a paired samples t-test, the researcher found that there was a significant difference in the mean scores between pre-test and post-test scores in the experimental class. The value of (Sig.) (2-tailed) is  $0.000 < 0.05$ . Therefore, listening using the dictogloss strategy in the experimental class improved as shown by the mean of the pre-test and post-test scores namely the mean score of the pre-test (57.08) was lower than the post-test (82.08). This means that the null hypothesis ( $H_0$ ) is rejected and the alternative hypothesis ( $H_a$ ) is accepted so that there is an improvement in the listening of students taught with dictogloss strategy. In conclusion, there is a difference in the improvement of listening comprehension between the two groups due to the implementation of the dictogloss strategy.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Allhamdulillah Robbil 'Alamin, all praises to Allah Subhanahu WaTa'ala for giving her health, guidance, and patience to complete this research successfully. She would like to take this opportunity to express her gratitude and appreciation to the following people who helped, encouraged, motivated, and supported her in finalizing this undergraduate thesis.

1. She has the deepest appreciation for Dr. Sri Hartiningsih, MM as her thesis advisor. This undergraduate thesis would not have been completed without her aid at every step of the process.
2. She is so grateful to her parents and family for always praying for her and supporting her in her academic endeavors. Thank you for trusting her to complete this study.
3. Thanks to all lecturers in the English Language Education Department at UMM who have taught and assisted her in completing her studies until now.
4. Thanks to all of the people around her who have helped and contributed to completing this research successfully.

She realizes that this proposal is still not perfect. However, she believes that this research will be useful not only for researchers but also for readers.
